

The Journalistic Neologisms

The paper presents a taxonomy of journalistic neologisms. It is suggested by the reading of several recent works in the field, as well as by the analysis of an extensive corpus of linguistic data concerning Romanian.

Several ideas are underlined: the neologisms invade Romanian newspapers; the rapid assimilation of new words and their new meanings; the dynamics of journalistic neologisms, both on the socio-cultural and on the temporal dimensions.